PO1.13 focus on knowledge and skill for further study, empowerment and citizenship.

PO2.1: Research Oriented

Law plays an important role in society. Law will always be there in the one form or the other, of course, our laws must be in a position to tackle the changing situation, and this is possible only through the legal research. No society can progress without research.

PO3.1: Social sensitization

Sociologists consider law as a main vehicle of social engineering of modern society. Law is essentially and exclusively a social fact. Foundation of law is an essential requirement for community life. The law is without doubt a remedy for great evils. Law is framed for the administration of justice, social control, protection of weaker sections of society, minorities, welfare of society, children, women labourer, etc.

PO4.1: Cultivation of Human Values:

Human values are certain virtues which guide a person to act or omit or behave with the human element. Human values convey a positive and effective tool, which insists a person to live together in harmony, and personally contribute to peace, to maintain human relations. Human values realise respect, acceptance, consideration, appreciation, listening, openness, affection, empathy and love towards other human beings – even in crisis.

MODULE – 3: HUMAN RIGHTS & DUTIES

(Core course)

Course Outcome:

Co.1 Protection of Human Rights (HR) became an important issue after the second world war and after the acceptance of Universal Declaration of Human Rights. The growth of HR Law and jurisprudence thereafter was spontaneous and continuous. The changes in the global scenario bring new concept of HR protection against violation. In one sense, HR can be said as the rights which the nature has endowed with human beings. However, they are not mere privileges given to the subjects by the ruler but are liberties permitted to the "citizens" in a democracy. Manifestly a law that violates human rights is no law at all. Probably this perspective may give an impression that human rights are not different from natural rights envisaged by the natural law school.

Co.2 Although Indian polity waited for more than one score and five years for adoption of Fundamental Duties in the Constitution, it is beyond doubt that every human being has responsibilities and obligation not only towards the other fellow beings, but also towards the society at large. Only when a society is aware of this right-duty relationship can there be any meaning to human rights.

Co.3 Human rights are the rights of all human beings. Violation of these rights in human rights violations. Due to frequent violations to particular groups in disadvantageous position, new categories of human rights have emerged. These groups are of people such as women, children, prisoners and dalits. Violation of human rights of these groups is of great concern of every nation today. The officials of the state like the police force commit such violations. This is only an illustration. There are several other categories of violations.

Co.4 This course is intended to highlight the concept of human rights, their evolution their importance in our society and duties.

MODULE – 3B: CONCEPT AND DEVELOPMENT OF HUMAN RIGHTS

(Elective Course) Course Outcome:

- Co.1 Protection of Human Rights (HR) became an important issue after the Second World War and after the acceptance of Universal Declaration of Human Rights.
- Co.2 The growth of HR Law and jurisprudence thereafter was spontaneous and continuous.
- Co.3 The changes in the global scenario bring new concept of HR protection against violation. In one sense, HR can be said as the rights which the nature has endowed with human beings. However, they are not mere privileges given to the subjects by the ruler but are liberties permitted to the 'citizens' in a democracy.
- Co.4 Manifestly a law that violates human rights is no law at all. Probably this perspective may give an impression that human rights are not different from natural rights envisaged by the natural law school.
- Co.5 Although Indian polity waited for more than one score and five years for adoption of Fundamental Duties in the Constitution, it is beyond doubt that every human being has responsibilities and obligation not only towards the other fellow beings, but also towards the society at large.
- Co.6 Only when a society is aware of this right-duty relationship can there be any meaning to human rights.
- Co.7 This course is intended to highlight the concept of human rights, their evolution and their importance in our society now particularly in the era of privatisation, globalisation and liberalisation.

Course Contents:

Unit - 1. Human Rights : Concept.

- 1.1. Human rights in Indian tradition : ancient, medieval and modern.
- 1.2. Human rights in western tradition.
- 1.3. Development of natural rights.

PAPER - 4: PRACTICAL EXAMINATION.

Course Outcome:

Co.1 Learning while doing

Co.2 Sensitize the students for research

Co.3 Sensitize the students for teaching

Co.4 Sensitize the students for social work

The practical examination shall be held at the end of the third semester on Research Methodology Law. Teaching and Clinical work. There shall be 25 Marks each for doctrinal research and for non doctrinal research and 25 marks each for law teaching and clinical work.

Course Contents:

Unit -1. Research Methodology.

i) Doctrinal research (25 marks).

Each student is assigned in advance a separate topic and asked to collect materials. A period of 5-7 days can be set apart for carrying out this assignment in the library. The materials indicated or collected during the assignment shall be evaluated by a team of faculty members.

ii) Non-doctrinal research (25 marks).

Here the students are asked to go out of the class room and library and make an empirical study of a problem which has social, economic, moral or political dimension. Field data can be collected through any model of data collection. The results are to be assessed by a team of faculty members.

Unit -2. Clinical work (25 marks).

The modalities can be evolved by the law school. One method is that the legal aid clinic of the law school can involve itself with other legal aid programmes in the area. Students are encouraged not only to work with the clinic but also to acquaint with court proceedings, working of a business organization, tackling of labour disputes, family disputes, drafting of business or other deeds and with public interest litigation. The initiative and potential of the student and the actual work turned out by him shall be assessed by a team of Faculty members.

Law Teaching (25 marks)

A topic is assigned to the student in advance. He is required to handle a class for 25 to 30 minutes. Where LL.B. programme co-exists with LL.M. programme, the students may be asked to teach the LL.B. students. They can select any of the methods of teaching. In legal education practical, the LL.M. students are evaluated by a team of Faculty members.

MODULE – 2B : ENVIRONMENT AND INTERNATIONAL LEGAL ORDER

(Elective Course)

Course Outcome:

- Co.1 Through the centuries of their growth, societies had done their best to keep their neighbourhood clean and health.
- Co.2 Industrialisation brought in its wake unprecedented and unpredicted environmental hazards and upset the old ethos and equilibrium.
- Co.3 The environmental consciousness is an offshoot of this saga of industrial growth. It is said that the world environmental consciousness had made a radical change in the character of international law from a moral code of ethics among nations to an almost positive law imposing on the states to observe environmental norms.
- Co.4 Striking a significant note at the close of the last millennium, areas of international concern on environment are legion.
- Co.5 Modes of reconciling the conflicts are also varied. The concept of sustainable development is a significant tool both at the international level and at the domestic system for reconciliation of environmental values and developmental needs.

MODULE – 3B : INTERNATIONAL HUMANITARIAN LAW AND REFUGEE LAW

(Elective Course) Course Outcome:

- Co.1 The two world wars had had enough of lessons to teach. But the present scenario shows that the nations have not learnt any lesson: wars continue to be there.
- Co.2 The International Humanitarian Law aims at humanising war though war itself is inhuman. Human rights do have value only in peace time. War is the negation of all human rights.
- Co.3 Though the United Nations Charter does not permit war, it has shown the wisdom to regulate the war if one occurs. War is one of the factors which creates the problem of refugees.
- Co.4 There have been some endeavours on the part of the international community to protect the interests of refugees. But due to political interference, the formulation of the definition of the term 'refugee' in the 'Convention relating to the status of refugees' has been such that it helps the developed countries to shirk the responsibility towards the refugees leaving the burden to the developing countries.
- Co.5 This course intends to equip the students with the awareness of the various problems of refugees and to inspire them to critically evaluate the international conventions and national legislation.
